

Le Président

Paris, 1 September 1988

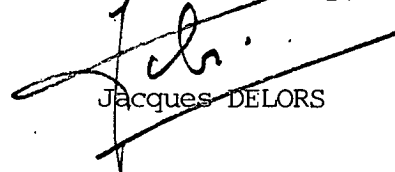

Dear Colleague,

I confirm that the first full meeting of the Committee for the Study of Economic and Monetary Union will be held in Basle at 2.00 p.m. on 13 September 1988.

I propose that the meeting should be devoted to a discussion both of the Werner report, its follow up, and subsequent developments; and of the future work programme of the Committee. As a basis for the discussion on the first topic, I attach a paper " The Werner Report Revisited".

I also attach a framework paper which is designed to give a concise but tentative overall view of the main questions and issues the Committee will examine over the coming months. I do not think that it would be usefull to discuss this paper in detail at this stage but together with the discussion of the Werner Report, it should provide a useful background for a discussion on our work programme and working methods.

Yours sincerely,

Jacques DELORS
